ATTEMPTED MURDER.

Officer Shot by a Dog Owner.

ROCHESTER, N. H., May 13. Elmer Clark, of Stratford, who was recently appointed by the State Board of Health to the town, was shot by Mr. Larry Longfellow.

Clark visited Longfellow's farm and was told he was to be shot if he did not leave the town.

Longfellow, who was under the influence of drink, shot him in the back, and he died.

Longfellow was arrested and held in jail.

Uncle Sam is something of a plater. He has just asked us for 15,000 pounds of English type, 5,000 pounds of paper, 75,000 pounds of long primer, 6,000 pounds of brever, and 48,000 pounds of nonpareil—203,000 pounds, or about nine car loads.

George Fred Williams as an apostle of free trade before the Dartmouth students and the efforts of the Democratic papers of Boston to show that the Democrats abhor free trade, and are quite as good protectionists as the Republicans, represent the two wings of the harmonious Democracy that do not flap together. George Fred has the courage of his convictions for the same reason that fools rush in where angels fear to tread."

Judge Rounds, of Calais, and John F. Lynch, Esq., of Machias were in the city Tuesday and were going to visit some of the shore towns to speak in favor of the proposed railroad. They were first going to Steuben and as the most convenient way of reaching that town took the train at St. Stephen, came through to Bangor and then went down the Mt. Desert Line. This roundabout journey is a good illustration of the pressing need of railroad facilities in Washington County.

The average increase in the cost of living during the past fourteen months, according to tables carefully prepared by the New York Economic Post, is about fifteen per cent.

The free trade organs are great on "tariffs," but fail to speak much louder than the large grocery houses in Boston are not long since declared this in their trade alone the saving to the consumers under the new tariff would amount to $170,000 a year. As the writer in a German paper in Ohio remarked, "Our politics are all right. Just look at the sugar bowl."

The bloodthirsty editor of the Commercial talks about the will of the people and appealing to the force of arms, and all because the Supreme Court of Nebraska has decided that a man who is not a citizen of this country cannot hold the office of Governor. The claim that an "official announcement" reveals some alleged irregularities in the action of the court has a strong Democratic flavor. The editor of the Commercial should delay placing himself at the head of a volunteer army to subjugate the Supreme Court of Nebraska until those alleged "sensational facts" are developed.

In calling attention to the advertisement of Merchants' Week in this city the Machias Union urges everyone who can do so to attend and adds: "Bangor has gone to large expense to make the week pleasant for her guests, and the Executive Committee aided by others will spare no effort to make all comfortable and give to their visitors a royal welcome. The Maine Shore Ice Railroad is going to be built, then only three hours between Machias and Bangor. In order to become an accredited Merchants' Week should be made the introductory session, by all means go, see Bangor the city of Eastern Maine and her business men."

The Purpose of a Casting Vote, INTENDED TO REPEAL, BUT NOT TO CREATE DISFRANCHISE.

At the time of the recent discussion of the claim of the Mayor of the City to the right to vote to make up in the Board of Aldermen and thereby prevent the choice of the Assistant Assessors, the Wells and Courier expressed the opinion that no legislative or other parliamentary body was ever organized with rules investing a presiding officer not a constituent member, with the power to cast up a tie by his vote and thereby defeat the very object of voting, viz., to reach a decision of the question at issue. On this point Mr. Boutelle asked the opinion of Henry F. Smith, Esq., the distinguished Journal Clerk of the United States House of Representatives, the author of several works on parliamentary law and practice and one of the foremost living authorities on all such questions and we print his reply as follows:

House of Representatives, U. S., WASHINGTON, D. C., April 21, 1891.

HON. G. A. BOUTELLE, Bangor, Maine,

Dear Sir:—I returned on Thursday last from Florida and at once "went under" with the "grip" or at least with all the symptoms. I am unable to set up to day and so will answer yours of the 13th inst.

It is the principle of parliamentary law that the presiding officer of a body, not a member of such body, cannot vote and create a tie, but that in order to vote at all there must exist a tie at the time of the casting of the vote, and thereby defeat the very object of voting.

Under the state of facts submitted in your note it is clear that your Mayor cannot vote and create a tie, but that, his power to vote exists only in case of a tie.

The presiding officer is determined and it was also settled in the case, I think, that the presiding officer, although a member of the body and entitled to vote, could not vote and make a tie and the presiding officer give another and "casting" vote.

I do not think in instance can be found where the presiding officer of a body, himself not a member—was empowered or authorized to make or create a tie by his vote.

Very truly yours,

HENRY F. SMITH,
Journal Clerk U. S. H. of R.

In direct line with the foregoing we may cite the injunction to the presiding officers which is given the prominence of small capitals in Cooking's Manual as follows:

"The presiding officer will often find himself embarrassed in difficulty, especially as the delicacy of decisions, and the order, or giving directions as to the manner of proceeding. In such cases it will be useful for him to recollect that—

"Under the rules of all rules and forms, is to submit the question of the assembly rather than to restrain it; to facilitate and not to obstruct, the expression or their deliberate sense."

Frosts and Drouth in New England.

The weekly crop bulletin of the New England Meteorological Society says:

The cool, cloudy weather of the week just passed has been favorable for heavy farm work, but for crops and vegetation of all kinds it has been the most unfavorable week of the season. The drouth is assuming serious aspects in many places.

It is very hard at present to get at the estimated amount of damage done by the recent frosts. The correspondent of Wells and Courier says:

potatoes, corn, beans and all garden truck. Some potatoes will have to be replanted, though generally they, as well as other crops, are only retarded in growth.

Correspondents vary greatly in estimating the amount of damage done to fruit trees. Apples were not forward enough to be injured. Professor Humphry of the Agricultural Experiment Station, is reported as examining 100 blossoms on a pear tree and found all killed. On a plum tree he found about one-third of the blossoms were killed. At Milford, Conn., the observer says that sprouts of oak, hickory and beech were frozen ten feet and the young foliage was killed. At Meriden, Conn., it is thought that the peach crop is ruined. But outside of this valley the reports are not very discouraging regarding the fruit prospect, the general indication being that comparatively few of the trees or buds are injured.

No report has come of tobacco being injured, but all reports of that plant are that it has not been set out yet and in the frames was well protected. The general cry is for warm rain and warmer weather.

Panic Stricken Michigan People Find No Relief from Rain.

Trains Caught in the Fire and Men Have Narrow Escape.

DYONNE, Mich., May 12. The hoped for security from the recent rain did not materialize for the panic stricken inhabitants of the burned district in this State. Some idea of the volume of fire can be gained from the fact that almost any two of the dozen counties now filled with fire are as large as the whole State of Rhode Island.

The Toledo, Ann Arbor and Northern Michigan railroad was obliged to abandon all efforts to run cars north of the Clare county line.

A freight train and crew had a narrow escape from cremation yesterday. The ties in many places are so badly burned that the rails spread as the train went over. When near Moorland a car in the centre of the train was derailed.

The wind shifted and drove the fire to the southwest, into Newaygo, Mecosta and Oceana counties.

The fire which started at Newaygo, Mich., are not heard from, but are supposed to be destroyed.

West Troy, a few miles north of Oma, has been enveloped by the fire since early yesterday morning and is supposed to be in ashes.

Reports from Cadillac.

Westland county notes that the inhabitants of all the villages in the county have been out fighting the fire three days.

Many smaller places have been wiped off the face of the earth. Where Niviana and Fremont, on the Flint and Marquette road stood, there is nothing but a few miles of ashes.

The village of Laketon has not been heard from since their last appeal for aid.

The fire is sweeping through the woods near Red Cedar, Newaygo county.

More than a hundred miles away across the state the little hamlet of Keweenaw is in flames.

Nowhere in Westland county, above Cadillac, is cut off from communication with the outside world.

The latest news from Traverse City is to the effect that the entire population is out fighting the fire.

Millions upon millions of logs are burning all over the centre of the state.

No Rain.

PEORIA, WIS., May 12. Forest fires have broken out along the line of the two roads between this place and Hermannville and are burning with vigor. The fire is moving in a fan shape in this locality for two weeks or more.

MEET MARCH 5

By JULIAN HAWTHORNE

[Copyright 1881 by American Press Association.]

CHAPTER III TRUTH AND SENTENCE

As our aim is not to larrow the reader with the multiplication of vain details only the gist of the newspaper reports of the time will be given here.

The court in this city the past few days of the alleged importance of a certain discovery have been so sweeping in their nature as to cause doubt. Every reader of newspapers nowadays seems to appreciate the fact that many things have to be taken with the proverbial "grain of salt." It is, therefore, refreshing to find something that can endure the closest scrutiny. And as there is so much pressing and so little practice, it is equally refreshing to meet with a man who practices what he preaches.

Acting on the conviction that no well-conducted journal can afford to make statements that cannot be substantiated, nor advance any claim for the facts that cannot be tested, the broad light of day, the investigation was instituted by the paper to thoroughly test the truth of the alleged discovery alluded to. When certain statements awoke public interest, the truth or falsity of these statements became a matter of still greater public interest.

FACTS WHICH HE PREFACES

The name of Dr. A. W. Newton, 26 Tremont street, having been used in connection with the matter in question, it was the first point to be investigated, the reporter presenting to the doctor in the role of an invalid and the following conversation occurred:

"Doctor, what can you give a man who has been so prostrated, lost his sleep, lost his peace of mind, and whom life has become a burden?"

"I can give him the judicious opinion that he is in a nervous condition."

"What can you give him in the shape of advice and relief?" That's what I want."

The doctor seated himself at his desk, dipped his pen in the inkstand and wrote out a prescription, handing it to the reporter. "Take this, keep up your courage, and a few days you will no doubt feel like a new man."

Following the prescription which is herewith reproduced,

N. B.—Dr. A. W. Newton's prescription is as follows:

Take a small quantity of Bals.

Small wine glass to twice a day or more.

On bottle in water.

The reporter could not refrain from exclaiming.

"Doctor, I am glad to see you in practice what you preach."

"What can you mean?"

"I mean just this: Your name has been publicly used in connection with the Compound which you have just prescribed to me. I came here on business and my paper tested the name of the doctor and found that you practice what you preach."

"Everyone should do that. Having investigated the new composition and tested the effectiveness of the Compound, I successfully prescribe and personally use it."

GRIPE DID NOT STOP HIM

"During the period of the Grippe, I was exceedingly busy with my practice, and yet we never had a day when I did not make my rounds. The physicians were sick much of the time. I attribute my health to the use of Paine's Celery Compound, and do not hesitate to prescribe it to my patients."

"What a man of news went he met only on emphatic confirmation of the statements that had found their way into public print, but large numbers of prominent people, including prominent exponents and writers of observation, were everywhere where cheerfully ready to go before the public with their unqualified words of praise. While these instances are too numerous to detail, it is well to note that the names include such names as Mr. George Wright, of the renowned firm of Wright & Dutton, W. H. Forbes, president of the Forbes Telegraph Co., H. H. M. A. Miller, the successful manufacturer of custom corsets, 21 Washington street; Howard D. Moore, attorney and counsellor at law, 20 Washington street.

At this season of the year, when the system requires assistance to successfully pass from winter to spring, the value of a great discovery like Paine's Celery Compound can hardly be overestimated, and a gratifying cure which is taking place on every hand each day all proves health restoring and life giving power and that indeed the statements which have been made are well founded.

Mr. George Wright, an eminent practitioner and scientist, has made a photograph of the truth. His advice marks an era in medical practice and science, the discovery, and makes it possible for any one to feel as strong and vigorous as the young. And as an illustration of the new, it is no ordinary medicine, but a pure food for nerves, brain and blood."
